

Zoe Nicholson

Equality Activist, author, speaker. Zoe shares her story and insights about the life of an activist. From civil rights, the ERA and LGBT, Zoe has fasted, marched, organized and rallied for social justice.

- Invite Zoe to give her presentation on ~
- ✓ Activism
  - ✓ Ethics
  - ✓ Satyagrahi
  - ✓ Civil Disobedience
  - ✓ Fasting
  - ✓ ERA
  - ✓ Intersectionality
  - ✓ Intergenerational Feminism

  - ✓ Mentors
  - ✓ Equality
  - ✓ LGBTQAI
  - ✓ Passion
  - ✓ Balance
  - ✓ Resilience

Zoe Nicholson featured in March On March On is a film project documenting the National Equality March in Washington D.C. on October 11, 2009. Through this lens we will tell the stories of individuals affected by inequality. Their stories are the reason we march.

It was said that Alice Paul was a woman of such conviction to pass the Nineteenth Amendment that she rarely took her hat off. I think of Zoe as a woman who forever wears her feminist hat, using each moment to advance the lives of women and girls.

Chelsea Del Rio, Past president CA NOW

I am fasting for equality of rights under the law in the US. I am fasting to legislate treating adults without regard to gender. I am fasting to criminalize discrimination. But my heart wants so much more.

June 16, Day 30

Zoe has made brave choices; fasting, marching, speaking loudly for Equality. She is a teacher, activist and mentor. She is a satyagrahi, a changemaker and visionary. The Engaged Heart invites you in and sends you out inspired.

Kindle format at Amazon.com
 Print format at <http://lunesoleilpress.com>

activate, wake up, motivate, agitate, disrupt, bother, annoy, aggravate, disturb

Zoe Nicholson, author, speaker, activist, openly feminist, openly queer, openly Buddhist

<http://www.zoenicholson.com> Zoe@zoenicholson.com

FB, Twitter & youtube; onlinewithzoe